Partnership on Migrants’ Health:
A Civil Society Perspective on High-level Dialogue Commitments
8. recognize that human mobility is a key factor for sustainable development which should be adequately considered in the elaboration of the post-2015 development agenda;

10. Reaffirm the need to promote and protect effectively the human rights and fundamental freedoms of all migrants, regardless of their migration status (...) recognizing the roles and responsibilities of countries of origin, transit and destination in promoting and protecting the human rights of all migrants, and avoiding approaches that might aggravate their vulnerability;

Challenges in promoting migrants’ health rights

International level: health of migrants absent in global debates:
- Often absent in global health debates (SDH, NCD, Disease Controll programmes, etc.)
- Often absent in debates on migration & development (HLD M&D, GFMD, GMG, Colombo Process, Regional Consultative Processes, etc.)
- Lack of global advocacy, champions, high level testimonials

National level: health of migrants not often safeguarded:
- Migrants still seen as burden on health system and carriers of disease (myths)
- ‘Generous’ social rights seen as a potential pull factor
- Migrants too often remain invisible, marginalized and excluded (empowerment of communities? Evidence/reasearch?)
- Lack of policy coherence, and multi-sectoral collaboration
Challenges II: Discrimination, exclusion, unethical treatment of migrant workers

- Limitations to travel, work and reside abroad based on medical ground (HIV, TB)
- Pre-departure forced contraception;
- Unethical medical screenings for prospective migrant workers
- Deportation of migrants with treatable conditions and pregnant
- Refusal of visa to dependents for temporary labour migrants
- Impact on families left behind

Evidence-based good practices exist.
Dialogue and partnership can help in advancing an equity agenda for the benefit of all
